

Full Name: Loftur Thorarinsson

Country: Iceland

Dissertation topic: Japanese Self-Developed Oil, 1955-2016: The Balancing of Energy Security and Oil Exploration and Production Industry Capacity Building Priorities

Research interests: Political economy of energy, energy studies, management studies, international relations.

E-mail: doc14112@grips.ac.jp

Work experience:

- Research associate, Oxford Institute for Energy Studies
- Director, Icelandic Chamber of Commerce in Japan
- Various commercial roles within the energy industry

Education:

- Ph.D. Security and International Studies Program (SISP), National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS)
- 2010-2011: Public Policy, National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS)
- 2009-2010: International Management, SOAS, University of London
- 2006-2009: International Business Administration, Copenhagen Business School

Languages: Icelandic, English, Japanese

Awards:

MEXT Scholarship
Sasakawa Foundation Scholarship
OIES Saudi Aramco Fellowship